

CAPACITY STATEMENT

Food, Cash and Livelihoods Support

We want to increase the number of children who are well nourished. World Vision Sudan responds to the needs of the most vulnerable in our operational areas with both immediate humanitarian food and cash assistance, and resilience interventions to strengthen community resilience to future shocks.

What is the problem?

Our operational areas are characterised by massive population displacement and high levels of poverty, with many families living in camps for internally displaced people. When families flee, they are often forced to leave behind their only assets and their support networks, arriving in already over-populated areas where economic opportunities are scarce and often underpaid.

How is World Vision addressing the issue?

We provide food and cash assistance and are equipping farmers and vulnerable individuals with skills, technology and the start-up capital necessary for them to sustainably grow food and/or start income generating activities.

Is what World Vision doing working?

Yes! Thanks to food distribution and cash-for-assets schemes, children are able to eat. But, with decreasing humanitarian budgets, we know that aid is not a long-term solution. For this reason, we are working with farmers and helping them to increase their yields and as a result their incomes through training and modern farming implements.
