Key Messages

- According to the UN, Rwanda hosts an estimated 145,000 refugees as at December 2018. Despite some access to livelihood opportunities, refugees continue to remain almost entirely dependent on humanitarian assistance for food. Increasing access to opportunities to earn a living will make them more self-sustainable in the long run.
- Children living in refugee camps are at high risk of chronic malnutrition and need access to more nutritious food. Empowering refugee families with income generating activities will boost their livelihoods and enable them to provide a diverse diet to children.

What World Vision is doing

Water, sanitation & hygiene

- World Vision supplied clean water to 29,930 refugees living in Mugombwa and Kigeme Refugee Camps.

Education

- World Vision ECD, primary and secondary education interventions supported 27,092 refugee children in five Congolese refugee camps focusing on school feeding and payment of incentives for refugee teachers.

Gaps and funding requirements

World Vision Rwanda is requesting US$ 2,385,000 to expand its response activities. So far it has received US$ 1,940,000 and is requesting an additional US$ 445,000 to close the gap and reach more people in need.
